Dent Removal business

Great Opportunity to purchase a long established Paintless dent removal business from a very experienced operator with a great client base and extensive industry contacts.

Established in 1990 this business is well known and respected in the industry. It enjoys a steady stream of referrals from insurance companies, panel beaters and private clients.

Low overheads with no need to rent a factory. All you need to operate this business will fit in the back of a Van or Ute.

Paintless dent repair (PDR) is becoming more and more popular. For small dents and dings there is no need to go to a panel beater, a PDR technician can fix a dent on-site without need to respray the damaged area.

Training will be offered to the purchaser together with introductions to business clients to ensure continuation of the goodwill of the business.

No previous panel beating or painting experience necessary! You will need to be prepared to get your hands dirty, have an eye for detail and ability to win new business through providing excellent customer service.

The business comes with all the assets needed to start trading from day one. This business is currently operated by one person, however it has the potential to grow through franchising, or licencing other independent PDR technicians is possible.
