Ride on the Back of Housing Market Wave

These days you want to find a business that is not subject to closure or lockdown when things go wrong. Such a business is a mortgage broking business. Once you gain a client, that client keeps paying you to the end of the loan. It's called ongoing income and it's what drives very successful businesses. The other thing driving these businesses is an enthusiastic operator. Mortgage brokers come from all walks of life. Teachers, people with plenty of experience and people with very little experience in business. It doesn't matter. All you need is the willingness to help your client. There is great satisfaction when you are able to help somebody realise their property dreams. This is a franchised business, so you know you'll get help from the beginning and right throughout your career with this franchise. This business has ongoing total income of around $10,000 per annum. On top of that you are getting commissions for arranging the initial loan. Some of the most successful people we know our mortgage brokers and as they grow their business, the value grows exponentially.
